Built by Architect Luis Camarena, this home integrates the contemporary lines, with the warmth of the natural Mexican materials like beautiful cantera stone floors and wood beams. The home is divided in 3 levels, with the main one opening up to a lovely terrace and garden. The living room features an impressive double height ceiling that gives the main living area a sense of space difficult to match. There are 2 super spacious en-suite bedrooms in the lower level, both opening up to the green garden, but enjoying complete privacy. The third bedroom is a fun loft that overlooks the living space. There are lots of details to discover, come see
