This property reinterprets the spirit of the colonial hacienda through a contemporary Mexican lens, evoking the work of Luis Barragán through the masterful use of color, light, and silence. The heart of the home is intimate, luminous, fresh, and functional, creating an atmosphere of calm and contemplation. Designed by architect José Luis Rodríguez, renowned for his impeccable fusion of interior and exterior spaces, the comfortable rooms open onto garden patios and ascend via staircases to terraces, where breathtaking views of the iconic San Miguel skyline unfold.
