Located in the heart of historic La Cieneguita, just 20 minutes from all things San Miguel across from the historical church, where families gather and the town flourishes with church bells remind us why this area is so incredibly charming.Casa Ciene located privately on 3,653 squaremeters, just under one acre of land. At its heart stands a majestic 300-year-old mesquite tree,welcoming you home. Around it, roses bloom and calla lilies rise. Talavera steps wind throughstone-lined beds and meandering garden paths. This is not simply landscaping. It is cultivation, patience, and time made visible. The gardens unfold in abundance, offering oranges, mandarins,grapefruit, figs, peaches, pomegranates, pecans, olives, and mature grapevines that produce generously each season. Agaves, aloe, dragon trees, cacti, palms, and pepper trees create a landscape that feels rooted and expansive, wild yet intentional. Every walkway invites a slow stroll. Every terrace offers a place to sit and exhale.The main residence,...
