Casa Sanmiguelense, a home with colonial elegance and nature fused together in Residencial Campanas, San Miguel de Allende. Immerse yourself in the perfection of colonial elegance and harmony with nature in this pre-sale home in Residencial Campanas. With 385 m² of construction on a 365 m² lot, this property redefines living in San Miguel de Allende, blending historic splendor with modern comforts and luxurious details. From the very first step, you will feel the distinction of this house, where the entrance becomes a threshold to an architectural design that celebrates quality. Details such as marble in the bathrooms, granite on the kitchen bar, and terracotta floors evoke a subtle yet tangible luxury in its open concept. The cantera stone in the fireplaces adds a touch of authenticity, while the grill in the patio connects your space with the common gardens, creating an intimate connection with nature where you can spend unforgettable moments. The house offers not just a home, but a lifestyle experience. Three spacious...
